

Friends of North Creek Forest 2015

In 2015, the OYC contributed $2,200 to North Creek Forest to teach local school children how they can be stewards for the natural world.

The North Creek Forest mission is “to create a cherished park where everyone can learn about, appreciate, and care for our native plants and wildlife”.

North Creek Forest is located in Bothell, Washington, north of Seattle. It is the largest remaining mature forest in the Bothell area. The forest is within 12 miles of every school in the Northshore School District.

Friends of North Creek Forest strive to insure all vested interests are winners in the effort to maintain and improve the ecological function of the forest. This means the city of Bothell, landowners, conservation interests, educators and the community are stakeholders in this wonderful jewel.

Outdoor Youth Connections supports the mission and approach Friends of North Creek Forest take to engage youth and make their experience with the outdoors a lasting part of their life.
